To whom it may concern;

Jacksons Food Stores and Jackson Oil began doing business with Viking Industrial Systems about 10 years ago. They service our high pressure cleaning equipment and also provide chemicals for washing our trucks. Their service is fast and accurate. Parts and chemicals are always available. I have visited their 17,000 sq.ft. facility in Caldwell. It is well stocked, organized, and clean.

We have recently began using the Hydro Tek stationary pressure washer, flood recovery, and concrete cleaning equipment distributed by Viking Industrial. This equipment is far better than we were previously using for roughly the same cost. Rod Caprai came through when I challenged him to design a better "built in" system for our convenience stores. They have serviced and repaired many different brands of equipment for us over the years and have never been stumped. I highly recommend Viking Industrial for American made pressure cleaning equipment.
